

Whole School Policy for Personal, Social, Health, Citizenship and Economic Education (Including EYFS and Out of School Provision)

'PSHCEE helps to give pupils the knowledge, skills and understanding they need to lead confident, healthy, independent lives and become informed, active, responsible citizens.'
(National Curriculum, 2000)

Policy Statement:

We believe it is our responsibility to ensure that pupils leave our School prepared to be active and responsible citizens within society. Personal, Social, Health, Citizenship and Economic Education (more generally referred to as 'PSHCEE' or 'PSHCE Education') is central to a child's education as it is concerned with the development of the 'whole person'. In emphasising the processes involved in PSHCEE it is evident that opportunities occur to enhance a child's feelings of self-esteem and self-worth, these concepts being fundamental to a healthy, happy and fulfilled life; a life in which the entitlement to 'being safe' is clearly stated. PSHCEE therefore cannot be treated in isolation but is firmly embedded in all curriculum areas and reflects the Value and Ethos of the School.

This policy is available to all parents and interested parties on the School website and is reviewed annually, and when events or legislation requires, by the Headmaster, Deputy Head (Pastoral) and Governors. The next review date is April 2021.

Aims and Values:

Our PSHCEE curriculum has been designed to help our pupils develop a clear set of rules of conduct which draw on basic moral values and which can be applied to everyday situations. We aim to encourage our pupils to respect themselves, others, property, the environment and the law. We hope that they will investigate relationships and gain strength to deal with any problems that may occur within their friendships or families. We ask them to take responsibility for their actions and be willing to help others in need of support.

Cranford House School aims to effectively prepare all pupils for future life in British society. Our PSHCEE Schemes of Learning have regard to the definition of such preparation as set out in ‘Careers Guidance and Inspiration in Schools’ March 2015: ‘...developing in every young person the values, skills and behaviours they need to get on in life. All children should receive a rich provision of classroom and extra-curricular activities that develop a range of character attributes, such as resilience and grit, which underpin success in education and employment.’ This is carried over into our ‘Careers Education Guidance Policy’, which has regard to the updated ‘Careers Guidance and Access for Education and Training Providers (Statutory Guidance for Governing Bodies, School Leaders and School Staff)’ October 2018.

We also ensure that the curriculum reflects the School’s Values and Ethos, which are promoted through Assemblies (Whole School Assemblies, combined Schools’ Assemblies, separate School Assemblies, Form Assemblies), Circle Time, Form time and House time. The PSHCEE curriculum encourages respect for other people and pays particular regard to the protected characteristics set out in the ‘Equality Act’ 2010. Pupils are encouraged to respect other people, even if they choose to follow a lifestyle that one would not choose to follow oneself.

Our Assembly programmes and Schemes of Learning reflect our approach to teaching the Fundamental British Values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs, which are further embedded in our School Values and Ethos. We also consciously avoid undermining these key elements. This is further reinforced during Form Time. Awareness of key pastoral issues is raised by School events, such as ‘Anti-Bullying Week’, ‘Safer Internet Day’ and fundraising events, such as for the Children in Need appeal.

We demonstrate, promote and encourage the following values:

- Respect for self and self-awareness;
- Managing feelings;
- Respect and empathy for others;
- Motivation;
- Social skills;
- Responsibility for one’s own actions;
- Responsibility for one’s family, friends, school and wider community.

Content:

At Cranford House School we recognise that the personal development of pupils, spiritually, morally, socially and culturally (SMSC) plays a significant part in their ability to learn and achieve.

We therefore aim to provide an education which supports the development of the skills, attitudes, values and behaviour which enable pupils to:

- Have a sense of purpose;
- Value self and others;
- Form relationships;
- Make and act on informed decisions;
- Communicate effectively;
- Work with others;
- Respond to a challenge;
- Be an active partner in their own learning;
- Be active citizens within the local community;
- Explore issues related to living in a democratic society;
- Become healthy and fulfilled individuals.

Throughout the Junior School we give pupils the opportunity to increase their experience, confidence and resilience in a variety of ways, examples of which include:

- Work within the curriculum through individual, paired, group and class-based learning
- Opportunities for pupils to be awarded specific roles and responsibilities both in and outside of the classroom. For example, the School Council membership, 'Learning Leaders', House Captains and Head of Junior School positions.
- Encouraging all pupils to perform or present in front of an audience. For example, in productions, music concerts, poetry readings etc.
- Encouraging all pupils to work together, mixing different Year Groups and Key Stages. For example, Vertical Teaching Day, sports tournaments, Challenge Days etc.

In the EYFS, PSHCEE is covered as part of Personal, Social, Health and Emotional Development. Staff plan activities and opportunities focusing on self-confidence and awareness, feelings and behaviour and making relationships. Pupils are assessed in these areas against the Early Learning Goals at the end of the Reception year.

In Key Stages 1 and 2, this is reinforced within the formal curriculum through the Jigsaw PSHE scheme of learning which is adapted to reflect the aims and Schemes of Learning of the School. This provides pupils with the knowledge, understanding, attitudes, values and skills they need in order to reach their potential as individuals within the community. These include:

- To be healthy;
- To stay safe;
- To enjoy and achieve;
- To make a positive contribution;
- To achieve economic well-being;
- To promote pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development.

The table below shows the areas of PSHCEE covered by the Jigsaw PSHE schemes of learning for the Primary Phase. This is covered on a two-year rolling plan:

Organisation:

The skills and qualities paramount in PSHCE Education cannot be delivered in isolation. They inevitably filter into other curriculum areas and are evident in the everyday life of our School, particularly in the skills and attitudes that staff demonstrate in their relationship with the children and the teaching styles they use. The main content is delivered via timetabled lessons of one-hour duration per week or fortnight. The Head of PSHCEE has overall responsibility for the delivery of PSHCEE in the School and is supported by the Deputy Head (Pastoral).

Active learning methods, which involve children's full participation, are used. Collaborative learning is an integral part of the process as is developing a growing understanding of the feelings of others.

We invite appropriate and suitably experienced and knowledgeable visitors from the wider community to contribute to the delivery of some lessons. We also take full advantage of workshops and local centres to enhance the curriculum.

Career guidance starts in Year 7 and continues through to the end of Year 11 when pupils attend a Work Experience placement. This is co-ordinated by the Head of Careers. (Please refer to the School's 'Careers Education Guidance Policy' for more details.)

In the Senior School, the House system underpins many of the areas which encompass PSHCE Education. House events such as political hustings; conservation and 'green' projects; working to raise money for charities and collaboration over musical, dramatic, artistic or sporting activities all enforce PSHCEE themes of citizenship, community involvement and personal growth and development.

The many and varied school visits also incorporate strong elements of PSHCE Education. Pupils learn about the outside world and develop a knowledge of and respect for other people and cultures.

Specific Issues with PSHCEE:

Confidentiality:

As a general rule a child's confidentiality is maintained by the teacher. If, however, through discussion or written work, they believe that the child is at risk or in danger they will refer it to the Deputy Head (Pastoral) (who is a Deputy Designated Safeguarding Lead) and/or the School's Designated Safeguarding Lead as appropriate. The child concerned will be informed that confidentiality is being breached and the reasons why will be given. They will be supported by the teacher throughout the process.

Safeguarding and Child Protection:

The School has a separate 'Whole School Safeguarding (Including Child Protection) Policy and Procedures'. Effective PSHCEE may bring about disclosures of child protection issues and staff are aware of the procedures for reporting their concerns (Please refer to the 'Whole School Safeguarding (Including Child Protection) Policy and Procedures' for details).

Controversial and Sensitive Issues:

Staff are aware that views around some PSHCEE related issues are varied. However, while personal views are respected, all lessons are taught without bias. Topics are presented using a variety of views and beliefs so that pupils are able to form their own, informed opinions but also respect others who may have different points of view and opinions.

Relationships and Sex Education:

This is as per statutory requirements. Please refer to the 'Relationships and Sex Education Policy'. This information is available to all parents on the School website, or upon request in the main School Office. Pupils in Year 9 have a specialised teaching day to cover the topic of Relationships and Sex Education.
